Formerly known as Medical Informatics World, Cambridge Healthtech Institute's Sixth Annual Bridge to Pop Health Conference in Boston brings together thought leaders from the provider, payer, healthcare finance, analyst and technology communities for insightful discussions on maximizing clinical quality. The two-day executive conference will cover operational performance in risk-based contracts, integrating your predictive models into your clinical workflow, innovation in clinical care delivery in a value-based world, and implementing a population health management strategy in the transitional space between fee-for-service and value-based care. We look forward to seeing you at what promises to be a productive step forward for our industry.
